Call for papers for the Workshop Macroeconomics and Heterogeneity

The Research Institute for Development, Growth and Economics (RIDGE), and the Development Bank for Latin America and the Caribbean (CAF), are pleased to announce the call for papers for the Workshop on Macroeconomics and Heterogeneity, an activity of the RIDGE December Forum.

We welcome quantitative-theoretical and empirical work in which household or firm heterogeneity matters for aggregate outcomes and policy. Topics include, but are not limited to, consumption and income dynamics, labor markets, taxation and social insurance, monetary policy transmission, human capital formation, inequality and intergenerational mobility, financial frictions, and the role of families and demographics in the macroeconomy.

The workshop will take place within the framework of the 2026 RIDGE December Forum along with the following workshops:

Towards Sustainable Growth: From micro to macro development - December 10-11, 2026

Growth and Development in Macroeconomics - December 10-11, 2026

International Trade - December 14-15, 2026

Financial Stability - December 15-16, 2026

International Macro - December 14-15, 2026

The RIDGE December Forum aims to favor the spread of high-quality research in economics by bringing together top researchers working on the frontier of knowledge with local and regional researchers and policymakers.

Paper Submission

Full papers written in English should be submitted via the RIDGE website. The cover page should include the title of the paper, institutional affiliation, address, phone, and email of each author, and an abstract with the appropriate JEL classification.

Papers should be submitted as PDF files, and the file should be saved as "Surname of author, name of author, title of paper.pdf." The same paper can only be presented in one workshop within the same Forum.
